SIPERIOR INPROVED SIX CORD 269 PDS. the beauty of his dress coat, I asked him to let me look at the shirt. He readily did so, and I quietly took out my pen-knife and cut a large piece from the tail. The gentleman bonneed and swore, but I told him I always took samples of cloth, at I found they greatly interested my wife. I added, that he had no more right to take my wheat than I had to take his coat, and that I wished the public to be impressed with this truth, for when thousands of people visited one's fields, and each took away some cars, the losses annually were very great." The same is true of people who visit printing offices, and take just one paper to look at.

just one paper to look at. A TRUE-HYARTED WOVAN.—One day last week a lady of this city, well-known to many of our readers, was passing hence to Providence on the railroad. She was occupying a seat by herselt, when a well-dressed, intelligent and apparently gentlemanly man, belonging to a party seated all around her, asked if he might take the place by by-her side, to which she politely assented.—The party soon fell into conversation, and the outrago upon Mr. Sumner being alluded to, the well-dressed man aforesid declared that he had no sympathy with the Massachusetts Senstor, who only got what he deserved. He was only sonly that Brooks, by the manner of his assault, had given occasion for an excitement! The woman bore the raseal's talk for a time, but at length, when she could stand it no longer, he said: "Sir, it seems that you are an advocate of armed an rudlanly vicience against unsespecting and defenseless men for the utterance of teeir opinious upon a great public question, and as I have no assurance that you will not put your theory in practice upon a myself it I venture to express my sentiments as unrescuedly as you have uttered your own. I do not feel it safe to sit so near you. I will thank you, therefore, to move, so that I pass you and find another seat." These words were uttered with perfect calmness and womanly dignity, and they made the advocate of ruffianism blush to his very hair as the lady withdrew from his presence to seek a parer atmosphere. The rebuke, so timely A TRUE-HVARTED WOMAN. - One day last week hair as the lady withdrew from his presence to seek a purer atmosphere. The rebuke, so timely and well-aimed, was fell, and those who witnessed the scene will not soon forget it.—N. Y. Tribune.

This interesting to note the progressive advance of size in steam vessels that has taken place within the last thirty years, which the following table, will render clear to the reader Length. Breadth.

1825—Enterprise, bunt expressor to go to India, 1805—Tugus, for the Mediterra-neam, 182 28 1838—Great Western, first ship for Athuntic passage, 236 35 1814—Great Britain, the largest iron ship then projected 22 51 825-Enterprise, built expressly iron ship then projected | 522 | 51 | 0 | 1850.—Himalaya, iton ship for the Mediterranean | 570 | 13 | 6 | 1850.—Persin, iron ship, | 390 | 45 | 0 | 1850.—Eastern, steam-hip, iron, | 680 | 83 | 0 |

Thus the occar-going steamer of 1850 is nearly six times the length of that of 1825, whilst the difference between their tonnage is still more in favor of the last built vessel. The augmentation has gone on in an increasing ratio, and it it is still to continue, we wonder over what space of water our Leviathan of 1870 will extend:

THE THOUSANDS whose constitutions have been ruined, and their systems possoned b he use of Mercury, should give the following their carner Dn. Gilas, Newton Hamilton, Pa., May, 1851, said :-

"I have used, myself, half a desen bottles of 'Hookand's German Bitters for Liver Complaint and discusses of a acromic character, resulting from the use of Mercury. I was poisoned and affiliced with spasms from the use of this latter article. The German Bitters is the first article from which I obtained any relief. I have also given the nticle to many dyspeptics, with the most unlutary resul I think as many more bottles will cure me."

Another Romarkable Cure of Berofula! Sparta, Caroline County, Va., March, 1854. Gentlemen :-- Your Carter's Spunish Mixture' has per ormed a remarkable cure in the person of a servant me afflicted with Scrofula in the very worst form. So had he become, that his eyes were cottrely closed, and had been so for more than a year ! As a last resort, an every thing else had falled, it was recoived to try the mixtur We administed at according to directions, and wonde ful to say, a perfect cure has been effected. I am satisfled that no medicine equals " Carter's Spani as a purifier of the blood. It is creating quite an exc ment here, and solis very rapidly. Lead another lot by Railroad. Yours truly,
